OK

Dear Mr. Casey:

On Monday, May 13, 18 students and faculty members from the U.S. Army War College had the opportunity to visit your agency and receive informative briefings by several senior officers. [redacted] spoke about the activities of the DS&T, Mr. Charles Briggs talked about congressional relations, and Mr. John Stein discussed the work of the Inspector General.

STAT

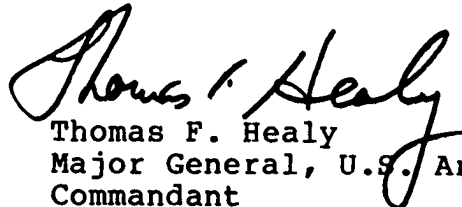

Each of these individuals displayed a keen intelligence, a well-grounded professionalism, and a willingness to provide candid answers to tough questions. Needless to say, our people were highly impressed with the briefings they received and felt that their time at Langley had been well spent.

Special thanks are also owed to [redacted] of OTE, who took care of the scheduling, clearance procedures, and escorting duties for our visitors.

STAT

All of our people came away with a great respect for the Agency and the fine people who work in it.

Sincerely,

Thomas F. Healy
Major General, U.S. Army
Commandant
